Introduction: Chad Eggerman

- Founding Partner of Procido LLP (www.procido.com)
- Qualified lawyer in Canada for 25 years
- Bachelor of Laws (LL.B., University of Saskatchewan, 2001)
- Master of Laws in Contract and Commercial Law (LL.M., University of Helsinki, 2003)
- Qualified as a lawyer in Finland (2003), Ontario (2004), Saskatchewan (2007), and Alberta (2019)
- Founder of the fixed-fee legal services app FloLaw (www.flolaw.ca)
- Creator of FloLaw's in-house legal AI-powered chatbot, Brad

What is FloLaw?

- FloLaw (www.folaw.ca) is a simple and easy-to-use app that gives you instant access to legal information and connects you quickly with qualified lawyers offering clearly priced fixed-fee legal services.
- At the centre of FloLaw is Brad — FloLaw's in-house AI legal chatbot, available 24/7/365 to answer your questions about legal services.
- Brad is truly unique: he has been comprehensively trained by fully-qualified, human lawyers and uses one of the most advanced AI reasoning models available today — Google Gemini.
- Today we will run through a live demo of the FloLaw app together on your iPhone or Android device.

What are the risks of using AI for legal advice?

AI Can Be Wrong

- AI tools can give incorrect or outdated legal information
- They may sound confident—even when they are wrong

FloLaw uses AI trained by lawyers and connects you to a real lawyer when needed

No Personal Understanding of Your Situation

- AI does not fully understand your specific facts
- Small details can change legal outcomes

FloLaw quickly connects you to the right lawyer for your situation

No Accountability

- If AI gives bad advice, no one is responsible
- You cannot sue or rely on it like you can with a licensed lawyer

FloLaw connects you to real lawyers who provide the advice and are professionally responsible

What are the risks of using AI for legal advice?

Privacy Risks

- Information you enter may be stored or used by the system
- Sensitive legal or financial details may not be fully protected

FloLaw moves you into confidential, lawyer-client communication after you select a fixed-fee service

Missed Deadlines and Legal Consequences

- AI may not warn you about important timelines (like filing deadlines)
- Missing these can lead to serious legal or financial loss

FloLaw provides fast access and clear next steps to help you get a qualified lawyer to act in time

Why use the FloLaw app?

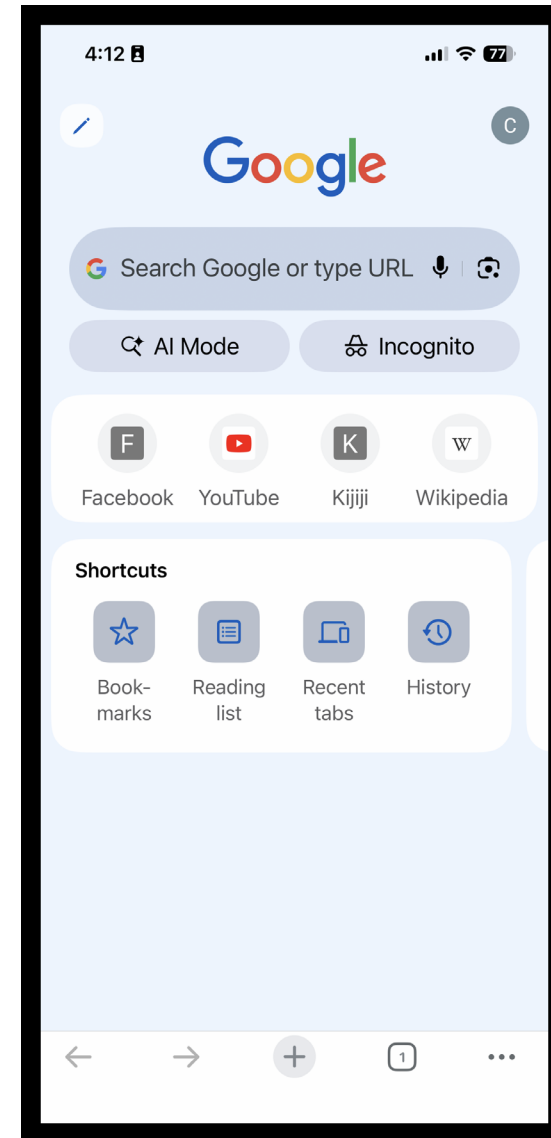

- Built by a senior lawyer with 25+ years' experience advising on complex, high-stakes matters—FloLaw is grounded in real-world legal expertise, not theory.
- Powered by Brad, FloLaw's AI legal chatbot trained by real lawyers, giving you instant guidance and helping you decide what to do next.
- Focused on cost certainty and risk management, drawing on deep experience in contracts, procurement, and dispute resolution.
- Designed for practical, easy-to-follow solutions, turning complex legal issues into clear, actionable steps you can take on your smartphone.
- Created to modernize access to legal services, combining AI, real lawyers, and fixed fees to eliminate uncertainty and make legal help more accessible.

What should legal services cost?

- Most law firms sell legal services on a billable hour basis – they start the clock, stop the clock and send out an invoice for the time spent working based on their billable hourly rate
- The FloLaw app contains hundreds of different legal services – all at a fixed fee.
- Browse through the legal services to determine what certain legal fees should cost
- The FloLaw app is updated regularly with new services and pricing, so check back often
